TRAINING—In May a very lengthy discussion was held concerning the lack of help received from the departments with skills testing days with the recent Recruit Class. After having a month to think about the problem, Ron Becker is proposing that the skill testing be done at the local stations and that the personnel there provide the instructors to help with the testing and evaluation. Becker and Reinhart attended a meeting at the Drill Field with representatives from Duke Energy and the City of Covington regarding installing the natural gas line to the facility. An installation plan was developed and submitted to City of Covington for approval.

The next recruit class begins on 8/17/15. , the lead instructors have been assigned and the class is now ready to begin.
